RE: School closure – 19/9/22

Dear Parents/Carers,

I am sure that by now you will be aware that the funeral of Queen Elizabeth II will take place on Monday 19th September. This day will be a bank holiday and settings that are normally closed on such days are advised to close as a mark of respect. This includes schools and colleges and therefore in recognition of this, Malbank School and Sixth Form will be closed for the day on Monday.

As a school community we were all saddened by the news of the death of Her Majesty the Queen. A symbol of strength and stability in what was an ever-changing world around her, we thank The Queen for her service and dedication to us all.

We encourage all our students to ask staff any questions they have on their mind in relation to the death of Her Majesty. It is an understandably confusing time and an incredibly high-profile event, the like of which they are unlikely to have experienced before in their lives. Equally, such public and open discussion regarding grief has understandably led many of our community to reflect on their own loss of loved ones, especially when this has been recent. Should students require support in any way, this can be arranged by contacting the relevant Key Stage office in the first instance.

Many thanks for your continued support.

Yours,

Mr J Harrison
