

Teresa Byrne, 1997

What Career are you in, and what sort of things does this entail?

Registered manager, training staff to support people in their every day lives, budget plans for the schemes, medication training, administering medication, specialist health care needs, managing a team of staff, risk assessments, support plans, reviews with doctors, social workers, commissioners and CQC.

What inspired you to go into your chosen career?

I did health and social care at Malbank sixth form and wanted to look after people, I have worked my way up from a carer in several fields to gain experience and knowledge

What advice would you give to anyone interested in working in your career area?

It is a career you have to do with all your heart and a very rewarding career, stressful but rewarding

What do you know now, that you wish you'd known when you were leaving Malbank?

Always respect people and listen, even if you do not agree everyone has something you can take away from what they are saying.
