

Beckie Holmes, 2007

What Career are you in, and what sort of things does this entail?

Key Account Manager, working with large corporate organisations supporting their internal training needs across professional qualifications and Apprenticeships

What inspired you to go into your chosen career?

My mum! She was an assessor, delivering professional service qualifications. She passed away in 2018, so working in the industry she was so passionate about is what drives me in my career.

What advice would you give to anyone interested in working in your career area?

Being responsible for such large accounts comes with its pressure and stresses, but the rewards of knowing you're helping people to further their career makes it all worth it.

What do you know now, that you wish you'd known when you were leaving Malbank?

Don't put so much pressure on yourself! If you work hard, you will achieve your goals, no matter how long it takes
