

Julia Sanders, 2005

What Career are you in, and what sort of things does this entail?

FE Lecturer, teaching at Cheshire College South and West. Currently a full time lecturer of beauty therapy and hairdressing. I have previously taught sports and public services.

What inspired you to go into your chosen career?

the teachers and lessons at Malbank.

What advice would you give to anyone interested in working in your career area?

Find what you enjoy doing and have a real passion for and always continue to study and practice your skills.

What do you know now, that you wish you'd known when you were leaving Malbank?

You are capable of anything you wish to achieve. Speak to people who are in career who wish for yourself and take as much advice and support as you can from them. If things don't seem to go to plan, keep going and find a different pathway until you reach your goal and don't give up. Work hard and it will pay off.
