What Career are you in, and what sort of things does this entail?

RAF as a Cyber Security Specialist specialising in Incident Response and Digital Forensics.

What inspired you to go into your chosen career?

I was always told I could not take any discipline and would t amount to anything, so I set out to prove people wrong, turns out after over 25 years in a disciplined service I proved them wrong.

What advice would you give to anyone interested in working in your career area?

Be sure it's want you want, and ensure you do your research before jumping in.

What do you know now, that you wish you'd known when you were leaving Malbank?

There are so many opportunities available, and you need to own your own future as nobody else will do it for you.
