

Richard Francis, 2008

What Career are you in, and what sort of things does this entail?

Catering, I'm a head chef and have been for over 10 years

What inspired you to go into your chosen career?

Food technology at malbank gave me the footing and interest in working with food

What advice would you give to anyone interested in working in your career area?

It's opens avenues to work all across the world! Be ready to work hard, but have a great sense of achievement. Everyday is a school day for learning.

What do you know now, that you wish you'd known when you were leaving Malbank?

Keep your head down and learn from those who you look up to. Knowledge is power.

I wish I'd of had someone else who could help mentor through food at school. A lot of simple yet everyday use items for work or home life.
